All funds are used to directly support & resource projects for women and children in Timor-Leste.
BMETS provides funding for women's groups that build community capacity.
Projects include national women's leadership, advocacy on women's issues, scholarships to enable girls and women to attend school and university, support early education, women's enterprise development, weaving (Tais) Co-operatives and anti-violence initiatives.
Projects are identified and managed by local communities.
